

KNOW YOUR AUTHOR

BRIAN OLIVER CORDERY GARDINER

Born: Ealing, England, March 10, 1923.

St. Bartholomews Hospital Medical School, first M. B.

Married in 1951, 3 boys.

Positions: Left St. Bartholomews due to war, after which worked for a short time in the Entomology Department, British Museum (Natural History). Transferred to present position on Agricultural Research Council.

Interests: The lepidoptera of Cambridgeshire, especially the fenland area; Pieris brassicae, its varieties, races and virus disease; breeding the Saturniidae of the world, and breeding lepidoptera out-of-season and on artificial diets.

Publications: About 75 notes and articles on lepidoptera, mostly in British journals.

